

Fishing Club

Suggest a regular Fishing Club meeting (perhaps once a month) and discuss how the members might like to run it.

- Where you will meet, and when
- What refreshments might be included
- What types of activity would they like to include
  - identifying fish
  - talk about baits, etc.
  - guest speakers

Gardening Club

If you don't already have a Gardening Club, now is a good time to set one up. Men might prefer to have an Allotment Club.

Gardening Club may be a bit too broad for some groups. Take a look at the individual interests of residents and discuss which they would like to concentrate on for the subject of their club(s)

Have a chat about possible names and choose one for each club that your residents wish to set up.

Meeting could include:

- Painting the shed/garden gate
- Cleaning tools
- Marking out planting areas with string and stakes

©www.brightcopperkettles.co.uk

Playing Cards

There is a never-ending list of card games, but here are a few of the most popular:

- Whist
- Bridge
- Pontoon
- Gin Rummy
- Cribbage

If your residents aren't already playing games, or the games they play are limited to just a few people you could try introducing some new games to enjoy.

Before you start you will need to know about a variety of games with varying levels of difficulty.

Playing Cards

cont...

Ask residents about the card games they are familiar with. A good way to do this is with your cards in hand.

Teach yourself a couple of games of Patience if you don't already know some.

You can then sit next to someone at the table and engage them in what you are doing, this is likely to lead into all sorts of information regarding their card games experience.

This should be recorded as an activity in your files as well as the information about preferred games and other facts of interest noted in each resident's files.

You could also try building a House of Cards